This is something that cannot be taken lightly, in many countries families tend to be very united, each member fulfills its communicative role with the others and this makes the environment more harmonious. However, there is no denying the failure of other families, which for different reasons have not been able to establish emotional ties that keep them united in the difficult circumstances that life presents them. Therefore, we can define family communication as the process in which the members of a family express themselves sincerely, expressing their feelings, emotions and desires in order to help each other, keeping differences at bay and establishing lasting bonds of love. It is necessary that both parties can be assertive at all times, so that communication flows freely. It is usually no, but their body, face and expression says otherwise. This not only happens when there is a conflict, but also when there is a moment of joy or sadness. This is why it is important to be able to read the body language of the other person. In this type of communication, the feedback is not direct or instantaneous, but is given within a certain period of time. Have you seen the organizational chart of a company?
